PRELIMINARY PLAT REFERRALS

In the process of reviewing your preliminary subdivision application subdivision the Planning Board must refer plans to various Advisory Agencies. These agencies have been listed below, along with number of copies of plans and Environmental Assessment Forms (EAF) which they require. When submitting a preliminary application to the Planning Board you must include the appropriate number of plans and EAF's for referrals. Failure to submit the correct number will result in the application being deemed incomplete and will cause considerable time delays in the processing of your application. Please consult this list for those agencies which must receive a referral and provide the appropriate number of copies. If you are unsure about which agencies must receive a referral, please contact the Planning Department before submitting your application.

DO NOT MAKE REFERRALS DIRECTLY TO THESE AGENCIES

If a PRD (Planned Residential Development) is proposed, you must also prepare a preliminary Standard Development which officially establishes the lot yield permitted under zoning. Some agencies require both the PRD and Standard Development and some require only the PRD.

Those agencies requiring both plans are: Planning Board, S.C. Dept. of Health Services, Town Conservation Board, Town Parks & Recreation Dept., N.Y.S. Dept. of Environmental Conservation, S.C. Pine Barrens Commission and S.C. Planning Commission.

Those agencies which require only a PRD have the number of copies in parentheses. These agencies are: Town Engineer, Town Police Dept., Fire District, town Fire Prevention Office, S.C. Dept. of Public Works, N.Y.S. Dept. of Transportation, Town Highway Dept. and Town Trustees.

Road and Drainage Plans need not be prepared for the Standard Development when a PRD is proposed. They must, however, be prepared on the PRD for referral to those agencies that review road and drainage plans.
